

International Youth Conference – Europe in Change

You are between 16 and 25 years old, speak English well and you want to participate actively in the European future?

Then we are looking forward to your participation in our international youth conference, which will take place this autumn in Ditzingen. Young people from France, Hungary, England, Germany and Poland are invited.

An exciting weekend with practical work on European topics, the exchange with young people from different countries as well as fun with trips to Stuttgart and a closing party await you. The youth community councils of Ditzingen and Gerlingen chose four themes:

Youth participation

Racism

Nationalism

Climate change

We want you to discuss those topics and the future of Europe together and continue to monitor the results of your work after the conference in the coming years. What other international projects would you like to develop?

The participation will be free of charge for you, except some pocket money for free time activities (about 80 €).

The accommodation for the international guests (but also for the German participants if they like) will be in our sports hall in Ditzingen, therefore you will need your sleeping bag.

For further information, please contact Melanie or Tristan in Germany or the responsible person in your town:
